

LEASED WIRE
International News Service
(Hearst Syndicate)
Exclusive News Report and Cable Features of the
NEW YORK SUN.

EL PASO, TEXAS,
Sunday, October 5,
1913—42 Pages
FIVE SECTIONS TODAY.

EUROPE HAPPY DEFIES CHURCH OVER THE NEW TARIFF TAFT'S PROGRAM ALSO

Merchants Chuckle Over the Fact That They Can Invade Markets.

WILSON PRAISED
BY LONDON PRESS

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 4.—There is great rejoicing among manufacturers and exporters in Great Britain, Germany, France and throughout the continent generally over the signing of the new tariff act without any mention therein of reciprocity.

Merchants generally regard the new law as an "open sesame" to the vast American markets and chuckle over the fact that it exacts no corresponding advantage abroad for American exporters.

Press Praises Wilson.
The self satisfaction felt by all classes over the new law finds expression in editorials praising President Wilson.

The Chronicle says editorially: "The president has let us see and won a policy of genuine fiscal reform. It marks an epoch in the economic and political history of the States. The nation, boldly asserting its mastery over the undisciplined interests that were nearly throttling it, has made an irreparable breach in the monstrous tariff wall which they had reared. For president Wilson, the passage of the new tariff is a great triumph. No more remarkable man has reigned in the white house since Abraham Lincoln.

Thinks Life Will Be Easier.
The new tariff cannot fail in its operation to make life easier to the great mass of American people, hitherto beset mercilessly by the big interests.

"President Wilson is the real author. He has shown unsuspected gifts of character. Little did the people imagine that this intellectual giant would be able to exert so remarkable an influence over the course of the nation's affairs. In his entry into the presidential office he has succeeded in inducing the strongest protection country in the world to take so big and decisive a step in the direction of free trade."

Triumph For Government.
The Times says: "It is launched on a falling market, the enactment of the Underwood tariff law may prove a victory. If, on the other hand, trade continues brisk for the next two or three years, the dominated and distracted American politics for more than a generation may be put on the shelf for another decade. Reasonable protection, may be accepted as the settled creed of the country and the path opened for the discussion and accomplishment of many over due reforms."

"Meanwhile nothing can undo the fact that American people have at length taken into their own hands direction of the fiscal policy of the nation. The passage of the Underwood bill is something more than a triumph for economic sanity. It is a triumph for self government. It marks the first time that the American electors, having voted at the polls for a reduction of the tariff, have seen their wishes translated into legislation by their representatives."

Wholly Satisfactory.
The Spectator considers the features of the tariff revision which president Wilson has effected, "wholly satisfactory. It says in part: "They mark a tremendous advance to freedom of trade throughout the world, with a fine result in economy of human effort and consequent increase of human satisfaction."

"President Wilson has shown that it is possible for an honest man, with a wave of popular enthusiasm behind him, to overcome the most powerful protected interests, even when entrenched in such an assemblage as the Americans."

HOLLAND WANTS ALLIANCE WITH THE UNITED STATES
The Hague, Holland, Oct. 4.—Holland is to sound the United States on the subject of making a treaty whereby the United States and Holland will form an alliance for defense of the Philippine Islands and the Dutch East Indies.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 4.—In an opinion by the criminal court of appeals Saturday, governor Lee Crue is charged with contempt for his "unfounded and infamous assault" upon the integrity of the court and its decision in the Geo. Crump habeas corpus proceeding, which was given in a letter explaining his non-attendance at the conference of governors at Colorado Springs last summer.

In his letter to the governors, Crue is quoted as saying that the criminal court had joined hands with lieutenant governor McAlester "in his raid on the penal institutions."

McAlester pardoned Crump while Crue was out of the state and his action was upheld by the criminal court of appeals.

Free Tickets to Herald Boys and Girls Tuesday to the three-reel "101" Bison.
animal picture

"The Girl and the Tiger" at The Unique

See Last Page of Sport Section for Particulars

ARKANSAS CLERGYMAN IS CHARGED WITH ALIENATING ANOTHER'S WIFE.

HUBBY NOT TOO OLD
TO LOVE, SAYS BRIDE

PORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 4.—Rev. Lloyd Baker Field, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Warren, Ark., defying his own church, which threatens to oust him, has married Miss Lillian Phillips, of Atlanta, Ga., member of a wealthy family.

The marriage took place in Port Worth and the couple started for Warren where, on October 16, the Arkansas Presbyterian officials will give Field a hearing.

Alienation Is Charged.
He is charged with alienating the affections of Miss Phillips from her first husband, Wm. H. Yeaton. Only two days before her latest marriage, Miss Phillips was granted a divorce and restoration of her maiden name.

"My former husband was too old to love and he did not treat me right," she said. She was only 18 years old when she married Yeaton.

Mrs. Field is a relative of Thomas Nelson Page and the preacher is said to be a relative by marriage of president Wilson. He is a Princeton graduate.

While the Yeatons were married the young couple were friends. It was understood, it is alleged, they had planned to wed before the separation. Field's connection at Warren, threatened the matter but failed to reach a decision.

Does Not Fear Ousting.
"I would not like to have my church oust me," said the bridegroom, "but then it will not make so very much difference. I married for love. My wife loved me as a friend when the church sees my side there will be nothing done about the matter. I have thought of anything that I would have the appearance of indiscretion. We have a good right to marry and no one or any one else tried to prevent it."

Burns Body of Man
To Collect His Own
Insurance; Arrested

New York, Oct. 4.—Arthur S. Hughes, a Forsyth, Mont., ranchman, is under arrest on a charge of setting fire to the body of a man who was killed by a train two months ago, from his grave, placed it in his own home and set fire to the house. The body, burned until unrecognizable, was found in the embers of the house.

Hughes disappeared and his wife went to mourning for him. A few weeks later Mrs. Hughes married a man named Elliot and in a check for $8000 insurance carried by the Montana man.

A policeman found Hughes working here as a longshoreman, after sheriff Meier had learned that he was communicating with his wife. Police say Hughes has admitted his identity. He denied that his wife had any part in his supposed death.

Prince Is Fined;
Insults Phone Girl

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 4.—Prince Charles paid a fine here today for insulting a telephone girl. The prince did not like the service he was getting over the phone and said something in German that is equivalent to an American "cussing out." The girl complained to the manager and while the manager heldly took a stand for the girl and the prosecution of the prince followed.

TEXAS POSTMASTERS NAMED.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The following postmaster nominations were confirmed by the senate tonight: A. L. Lottis, Manor, Texas; Almyra L. Williams, Hart, Texas; Wm. R. Sharpe, Wolfe City, Texas.

Imports Released at New York Port Valued at Over $73,000,000

New York, Oct. 4.—Tariff effective October 1, this message from Washington was the signal for the release of more than $73,000,000 worth of imported goods from the government bonded warehouses in New York today. Although Saturday is usually a half holiday at the New York custom house, clerks worked late into the afternoon and tonight, collector of the port John Parroy Mitchell said that all records for one day's receipts, the custom house had kept open. The amount was so large that collector Mitchell hesitated to make public an estimate, saying that the figures would be definitely known Monday.

The release of this enormous amount of goods came as a welcome relief to those in charge of the bonded warehouses, for they had begun to wonder what could be done with the next large consignment of goods arriving in this port. More than $100,000,000 worth of imported goods had been placed in the warehouses during the past few weeks and this meant that capacity had been reached.

Ritter Attacks New Tariff.
"The tariff is so inadequate," said William Ritter, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers Exchange, whose membership embraces the substantial manufacturers of the city, criticised today the new tariff measure.

"Candidly, I am not at all in sympathy with the president's tariff policy," said Ritter. "And in speaking of it I am reflecting the sentiment of wholesalers throughout the country who have severely criticised the president's tariff views."

MORGAN'S SON IS CHIEF OF HARVARD GAS HOUSE GANG
Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—JUNIOR (Sident) Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan, has been selected chief of the Gas House gang, the most select of the Harvard senior organizations, whose membership is limited to eight. These eight young men are worth at least a total of $60,000,000 in their own right.

WILSON REPORTING ANARCHY IN MEXICO Roosevelt Criticises Taft's Program Also

AGED EXILE IS LOOKED TO AS MEXICO'S SAVIOUR
REPORTED ON HIS WAY HOME

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 4.—Has Gen. Porfirio Diaz started for Mexico? Well informed circles in London believe he has, despite denials, and are confident that he will be heard from before long, if not in Mexico, at least on the other side of the Atlantic. An unconfirmed telegram to the Evening Standard from Santander, Spain, declares that the ex-dictator sailed for Mexico today.

A story, which has been current in Central American circles here, is that Don Porfirio really sailed several days ago incognito on board an English liner bound for South America. This report says he will not go directly to Mexico but will make his headquarters at some point near his own country, possibly Havana.

Among Mexicans and other Central Americans here, the opinion is growing that Don Porfirio offers the only solution of the Mexican trouble. The coming election in the troubled republic is not taken seriously by these men as a possible peace bringer. In fact they regard it as probable that it will intensify the trouble.

In the years of turmoil and anarchy following the retirement of Diaz, they point out that no man has arisen who has shown ability to cope with the situation and that it has become necessary to call back Porfirio Diaz if order is to be restored. Even some of the Maderist leaders in exile are beginning to take this view.

TEXAS STARTS
PARACAMIONS
TOOTH-S-

POPE AND KING BORDER WAR
ARE CLOSER
IN ITALY

Singleton Goes to Straight-
en Out Daughter's Affair
With Oelrichs.

MAY INVESTIGATE
HER "CONFESSION"

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—There is a state bordering on panic among the gilded colony at Columbia university over the report that Edwin Singleton, the Texas mining man and father of Lucile Singleton, the young girl who was injured while riding with Herman Oelrichs, son and heir of the millionaire steamship man of that name, and nephew of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is in New York from Texas bent on making things lively for those involved in the scandal.

Oelrichs Disappears.
Young Oelrichs after his discharge in court this morning, after Lucile Singleton had been induced to make a confession exonerating the young millionaire, became inaccessible. Whether his retirement from public view is due to the arrival of Singleton, or is simply due to the determination of his people to keep him out of sight until the notoriety of his escapade has blown over, is not known.

Those who know Singleton expect him to make trouble if he finds his girl has been ill treated. According to a friend of the family, he is a typical southwesterner, a minor, cool headed but determined, quick to resent an insult or injury, without waiting for the law to act, unless it acts mighty quickly. He is said to be particularly incensed over the reports reflecting on his daughter's character and is likely to make the affair a personal matter between himself and the rich young member of the Delta Psi and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternities who have been mentioned in the case.

This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

WILSON REPORTING ANARCHY IN MEXICO Roosevelt Criticises Taft's Program Also

AGED EXILE IS LOOKED TO AS MEXICO'S SAVIOUR
REPORTED ON HIS WAY HOME

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 4.—Has Gen. Porfirio Diaz started for Mexico? Well informed circles in London believe he has, despite denials, and are confident that he will be heard from before long, if not in Mexico, at least on the other side of the Atlantic. An unconfirmed telegram to the Evening Standard from Santander, Spain, declares that the ex-dictator sailed for Mexico today.

A story, which has been current in Central American circles here, is that Don Porfirio really sailed several days ago incognito on board an English liner bound for South America. This report says he will not go directly to Mexico but will make his headquarters at some point near his own country, possibly Havana.

Among Mexicans and other Central Americans here, the opinion is growing that Don Porfirio offers the only solution of the Mexican trouble. The coming election in the troubled republic is not taken seriously by these men as a possible peace bringer. In fact they regard it as probable that it will intensify the trouble.

In the years of turmoil and anarchy following the retirement of Diaz, they point out that no man has arisen who has shown ability to cope with the situation and that it has become necessary to call back Porfirio Diaz if order is to be restored. Even some of the Maderist leaders in exile are beginning to take this view.

TEXAS STARTS
PARACAMIONS
TOOTH-S-

POPE AND KING BORDER WAR
ARE CLOSER
IN ITALY

Singleton Goes to Straight-
en Out Daughter's Affair
With Oelrichs.

MAY INVESTIGATE
HER "CONFESSION"

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—There is a state bordering on panic among the gilded colony at Columbia university over the report that Edwin Singleton, the Texas mining man and father of Lucile Singleton, the young girl who was injured while riding with Herman Oelrichs, son and heir of the millionaire steamship man of that name, and nephew of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is in New York from Texas bent on making things lively for those involved in the scandal.

Oelrichs Disappears.
Young Oelrichs after his discharge in court this morning, after Lucile Singleton had been induced to make a confession exonerating the young millionaire, became inaccessible. Whether his retirement from public view is due to the arrival of Singleton, or is simply due to the determination of his people to keep him out of sight until the notoriety of his escapade has blown over, is not known.

Those who know Singleton expect him to make trouble if he finds his girl has been ill treated. According to a friend of the family, he is a typical southwesterner, a minor, cool headed but determined, quick to resent an insult or injury, without waiting for the law to act, unless it acts mighty quickly. He is said to be particularly incensed over the reports reflecting on his daughter's character and is likely to make the affair a personal matter between himself and the rich young member of the Delta Psi and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternities who have been mentioned in the case.

This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order to curtail the spread of an anticlerical majority in parliament.

It is more than likely that cardinal Mailli, the archbishop of Pisa, had a mission from the pope when he visited the king at San Rossore. Cardinal Agliardi got a military escort, a former protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Catholic Meeting Protected.
The government, in pursuance of its policy in settling Catholic aid in parliament, prevented a Catholic meeting at Marino from being interrupted by protesting it with more than 2000 armed troops. Meanwhile, as the result of the government policy expressed in the protest from the pope against anti-clerical outrages has been delayed and may be abandoned. The patriotic feeling in which an alliance was made to "the rights and duties of Catholics to dear, beautiful Italy, which we all wish to be great and prosperous and not ruled by sects."

Very Significant Change.
This sudden and unexpected improvement in the relations of church and state appears to some the more significant, owing to the fact that it follows immediately after the departure of an anticlerical feeling in Italy. Recent anticlerical demonstrations caused a reaction among Catholics in favor of the government. The Catholics realized the necessity of aiding the government in order